Sundance Wyoming

Sundance Wyoming is located in the northeast corner of the state and is the perfect combination of quiet, friendly lifestyle, award winning healthcare, comprehensive services, world class recreation, and outstanding business potential. Established in 1875 as a trading post, settlers prospered in the wide open frontier of this time. Not much has changed in the 100 plus years - the skies are still huge and Sundance Mountain is still breathtaking. The monumental vista towers over this quaint town.

Sundance, with 1,123 residents, is the seat of Crook County and the center of a 200,000 person economic zone ranging from Rapid City and the Black Hills of Western South Dakota to the massive energy industry around Gillette, Wyoming.

Sundance Mountain shelters the city and anchors a group of four mountains sacred to Native Americans that also includes Devil's Tower, Inyan Kara, and Bear Butte. These four are all important ceremonial sites for the Native American population. Oral histories indicate that the sun dance was performed on Sundance Mountain by Plains tribes. During this ceremony personal sacrifices were made for the good of the community.

The city provides outstanding services to its residents and the outlying population. There are three parks with playground equipment, walking paths, a golf course, a newly remodeled outdoor swimming pool, splash pad, outdoor movie theater, stage, athletic fields, rodeo and fairgrounds, and a new football stadium.

The award winning Crook County emergency room and hospital, urgent care center, and nursing home provide comprehensive and accessible health care with no need to leave town.

Local businesses offer dining, retail, pharmacy, and a wide range of supplies and services. Seasonally, there is a weekly farmer’s market and ready access to local ranch and farm grown meat, poultry, game, and vegetables. Elk, muley, whitetail deer, and other hunting access is some of the best in the U.S.

Reasons to do Business in Sundance, WY

Located on Interstate 90, between Spearfish, SD and Gillette, WY, Sundance offers a supportive business climate, offering two newly developed industrial parks adjacent to I-90 and some beautifully renovated office spaces available in the historic Main Street district. No state income tax and low energy costs make Sundance the perfect community to set up your business.

Location:

Sundance is located on I-90, providing transportation access to and from major markets in the Northwest and Midwest. Additionally, Sundance is located within 60 and 85 minutes, respectively from two regional airports: Gillette, WY and Rapid City, SD.

Internet:

The Sundance area offers state-of-the-art fiber optics internet infrastructure, supplied by Range. Their high speed internet service has options to meet the needs of your business. You can download graphic-heavy files, large documents, photos, email attachments, and more instantly. It will forever change the way you work, live, and communicate.

Taxes:

The citizens of Wyoming pay one of the lowest levels of personal taxes in the United States. There is no income tax, and sales tax in Crook County is only 5% (as of 9/2025). Property taxes are also very low. Taxes on a median home of $218,170 home in Sundance are about $1391/year.

Wyoming was rated by the Tax Foundation as having the best business climate of all 50 states for the last five years in a row.

Energy:

Sundance is supplied with affordable and reliable electricity through the locally owned rural electric cooperative - Powder River Energy. The rates are affordable because the cooperative operates at cost and is owned by its member-consumers. Any excess revenues above the cost of providing power are returned to the members. The rates are consistently competitive with neighboring electric utilities that are investor-owned or municipal enterprises.
